

Costello Convicted Of Contempt; Judge Ousts Two Jurors

Gambler Who Defied Senate Found Guilty

New York (AP) — Gambler Frank Costello was found guilty last night of contempt of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

The verdict was returned by a Federal court jury which deliberated about seven hours.

Two members of the jury had been ousted from the panel earlier in the day by the judge.

Costello, 61, had sidestepped four Federal government efforts to put him behind bars.

He was tripped up by the law only once before—in 1915 when the State of New York jailed him for ten months for carrying a gun.

He beat run-running, stolen jewel and tax charges and only last Jan. 15 beat the same contempt charge on which he was convicted last night.

A jury early this year failed to reach an agreement.

Costello, a croaky-voiced star witness of the Senate committee's widely televised hearings here last year, was charged with 10 counts of contempt.

Specifically he was accused of walking out of the hearing without permission of the committee.

He faces a maximum of 10 years in prison and fines of $10,000.

Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan continued Costello in $5,000 bail and set sentencing for next Tuesday morning.

A mistrial motion based on alleged misconduct of a juror will be argued then.

The ouster of the jurors—one of them the woman foreman of the jury—came as an astonishing climax to the final day of proceedings in the case.

The woman, Mrs. Helen Louise Mason, a Negro housewife, told reporters afterward that the judge accused her of being mixed up in a $250 bribe deal to hang the jury and prevent a verdict.

"It's ridiculous," she snapped. Judge Ryan said later that his interview with her, conducted in his chamber, had been "inaccurately reported." He did not, however, make public an account of his own.

There was even less information regarding the other juror eliminated, Julius Fox, a textile convicter.

The case went to the jury late in the day after one alternate juror, who had reported ill in the morning, hastened to court to take the place of one of the two fired. A second alternate took the other place.

After removing the two jurors, Judge Ryan told the remaining 10 jurors and two alternates:

"The fact that these jurors were excused has nothing to do with the guilt or innocence of the defendant because he had nothing to do with their being excused."

Plant Executive Sacrifices Life To Save Payroll

Lafayette, Pa. (AP) — A bandit's bullet killed 41-year-old Morton Crain yesterday as he successfully defended his company's $17,000 payroll.

The shooting occurred at the McFesley Brick Co.'s plant office three miles east of Lafayette, after Crain, assistant superintendent of the plant, apparently had eluded the bandits on the highway.

Fellow workers said Crain raced his automobile into the plant's yard, closely pursued by another car containing two men wearing gunnysack hoods.

Crain leaped out of the machine and dashed into the company office, slamming the door behind him. He was about five or six feet inside when a bullet crashed the door panel. He fell to the floor, the payroll dropping from his hands. He died a half-hour later. The bandits fled.

Further Shortage Traced To Banker

Scranton, Pa. (AP) — Bank investigators have uncovered an additional shortage of $2,800 in the cash accounts of Frank Donald Hofsommer, until recently head teller at the Green Ridge State Bank here. It was disclosed yesterday by Cashier James A. Wyncoop.

The bank investigators, it was stated, made a report on the new shortage to the FBI and the company that bonded Hofsommer has made good the shortage to the bank.

Hofsommer was arrested a short time ago charged with stealing $15,000 from the bank and has admitted the theft.

15 Killed As Two Military Planes Collide

Mobile, Ala. (AP) — Two Air Force transports collided in flight north of Mobile last night and carried 15 crewmen and passengers to flaming death.

Six of the dead were crewmen aboard a giant four-engine C-124 Globemaster capable of carrying up to 200 troops.

Nine others were passengers and crewmen on a C-47. Both planes were believed to have been based at Brookley Air Force Base here.

Pieces of the wreckage found at the crash scene indicated the two planes became locked together on impact and came to earth at the same spot.

The planes plunged to earth squarely on top of a railway box car with a tremendous roar heard throughout downtown Mobile, a bare mile and a half to the south.

Tax-Exempt Groups To Be Probed

Washington (AP) — The House voted yesterday for an investigation of tax-exempt education and philanthropic organizations to find out whether they are spending their money on "un-American and subversive activities."

Speaker Rayburn was authorized to appoint a seven-man committee with subpoena powers to make the inquiry. The committee probably will be headed by Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who proposed the probe.

The investigation was approved by a roll call vote of 193 to 158, with many members objecting that it would overlap the work of existing committees.

Rep. Powell (D-NY) said it would be "another witch-hunting committee."

Cox denied this, saying it was not the purpose of his resolution to punish "anything or anybody," but merely to discover how the tax-free organizations are using their resources.

He mentioned the Carnegie and Rockefeller foundations among those spending large sums of money. He also said some foundations have financed questionable individuals and "represent the Latimore school of thought."

Owen Lattimore is a Johns Hopkins professor and Far Eastern specialist who has been accused before congressional groups of having Communist sympathies. He has denied it.

Cox indicated the committee may study "the infiltration of Reds into textbooks used in schools throughout the country."

Mountaineer Publishes 'Flattering' Parody On The Daily Record's Makeup And Contents

Stroudsburg High School journalists yesterday brought out their tongue-in-cheek take-off on The Daily Record—a satirical duplication of this paper's news presentation in style.

Included in the paper (ordinarily titled "The Mountaineer" but for the purposes of the special issue re-titled "The Daily Record") were authentic column headings (with minor changes) appearing over the familiar by-lines of Record editors.

Among the local columns represented in the school paper were "Meet Your Cellmate" by "orace G. 'eller; "The Rec Soshubbe News" by Bobbie Eastcreek, Social Agitator; Mrs. Eastcreek's "Just Between Us'n; "The Shop-lifter" and "Life of Dryly" by Jim Bryly, Sports Edative.

Syndicated columnists came in for their share of the ribbing. Sokolsky's "These Days" took the form of a library column called

"These Books" and authored by a vaguely familiar Georgie Sulk; Winchell became Wehnchell and wrote a column under the head "On Boredway" and Eulof Lewis Jr. delivered a special "Washington Retort."

The last page of the issue devoted some space to a bulletin from the "Yuropeen" correspondent "Ruth Holler Thataway" whose 827th report appeared.

The lead editorial explained the issue this way: "Nothing in this issue is intended to annoy any of its readers. The publication which it parodies, a well-known paper-about-town, has shown on many occasions that it has a sense of humor. 'Imitation' said Colton, 'is the sincerest (form) of flattery.'"

In an effort to determine whether or not the issue had this desired effect several members of The Record editorial staff

Wage Boss Attempts To Avert Strike

New York. (AP) — The nation's wage boss made a flying last-ditch effort yesterday to head off a Tuesday midnight strike of 700,000 defense-vital steel workers.

"I'm prepared to stay until hell freezes over—if it will help—to settle it," said Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

He flew in from Washington to an atmosphere of gloom—with the CIO United Steelworkers resigned to their first strike since 1949 and the industry already preparing to shut its mills.

He apparently carried with him hopes of peace as he huddled quickly, first with one side and then the other. But he did say:

"I hope to be able to reopen negotiations."

They collapsed Thursday in a deadlock over the wage pattern outlined last month by Feinsinger's own WSB. The union wants the pattern with its 17½ cents an hour wage increase. The company won't accept it without a steel price rise of some $12 a ton.

Feinsinger said his only instructions from Washington before he left were "to settle the dispute."

Asked if he had any powers to alter the previous WSB recommendation, Feinsinger said:

"I won't answer that question."

Feinsinger wound up his separate conference late in the day with no indication if and when he might get both sides together again. He said he plans further conferences today—but separately, at least at the outset.

His meetings here were set up earlier by Acting Mobilization Director John R. Steelman in Washington. Steelman asked industry and union to stand by in New York for Feinsinger's arrival.

At that time, Philip Murray, head of the CIO-USW and president also of the CIO, was getting ready to go back to Pittsburgh to direct the strike.

However, even as the new talks were begun, Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said in Washington he still cannot see a special price increase for the steel industry.

Under present government price policies, the industry can hope for a steel price increase of only $2 a ton or slightly higher—far below its $12 a ton demand.

Big Steel said the WSB recommendations were worth 30 cents an hour to the steelworkers and would cost industry a billion dollars more a year.

Besides the 17½ cents, the WSB recommended fringe benefits estimated at worth five cents an hour, plus a union shop.

The industry made a final offer Thursday, which it said would add 16 cents an hour to a steelworker's wages. Murray said it was only worth 14½ cents and turned it down.

Praises Alliance

Washington (AP) — President Truman said yesterday the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance is steadily raising the odds against world war three and is marshalling the strength to ward off any attack.

But Secretary of State Acheson warned that "danger is still with us—the hardest part of the task lies ahead."

Queen Chosen

Washington (AP) — Elizabeth Ann Meyer, of Erie, a Defense Department employee representing Pennsylvania, was chosen last night as queen of Washington's cherry blossom festival.

They are the first of the so-called "second-level" party affiliates to be convicted and sentenced. Five of the six are acknowledged party district leaders.

The sixth has served as a party attorney and participated in their meetings.

Their attorneys immediately began preparing appeals. Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut ordered them jailed until he decides on a motion for bail Monday. The government has asked a minimum of $50,000 bond each.

E. S. Police Find New Bed Spring At Playground

East Stroudsburg police haven't gone into the furniture business, but they do have a new metal bed spring to offer.

Travis J. Seese, assistant chief of police said the spring was far removed from its natural habitat when he recovered it yesterday leaning against a concession stand at the East Borough playground.

After attempting to find the owner, by phoning various merchants of the borough, Seese carted the spring and its tag, plainly marked $16, back to police headquarters. He added "I'd be glad if the owner would come here to claim it."

Tornadoes Kill Six In Louisiana

New Orleans (AP) — Tornadoes and violent windstorms tore across Louisiana, Alabama and Northwest Florida yesterday killing six persons. At least 65 others were injured and property damage estimates reached $1 million.

The Weather Bureau in New Orleans said winds have hit 150-200 miles an hour after measuring instruments failed. One radio tower erected to withstand winds of 135 miles an hour was toppled. Fifty big trees were uprooted in Audubon Park.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau said the tornadoes developed in a line squall of winds and rain in East Texas and moved across Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Northwest Florida and into South-west Georgia.

All of the dead and 63 of the injured were in Louisiana, hit by two of the four tornadoes born in the winds and rains of a line squall that lashed eastwardly across the gulf coast states.

The other two tornadoes hit with heavy damage, but without reported loss of life, at the Municipal Airport area at Mobile, Ala., where two persons were injured by flying bricks from a school building; and along the beach area outside Panama City, Fla.

Four of the six killed by one tornado in Louisiana were members of a farm family at Arnaudville, a little farming town in the heart of the French-speaking Cajun country 10 miles northeast of Lafayette. The Arnaudville area was the hardest hit of all with 24 others injured requiring hospital treatment, and uncounted but extensive property damage.

The home of Alex Olivier, 50-year-old farmer, was demolished into splintered wood. He, Mrs. Olivier, and two daughters, Shirley, 17, and Pearl, 9, were killed.

The second Louisiana tornado struck near Shreveport, cutting through a grove of pine trees and damaging two houses.

The tornado striking the Mobile Airport area hit a crippling blow. Damage in excess of $100,000 was reported to a public school plant alone, and there was other heavy damage to homes and timberlands.

At Panama City, the storm flattened some beach cottages and damaged others in cutting a 50-foot wide swath along the beach area. It made a waterspout out in the gulf waters that swept forward to within a block of the pier.

Six Second-Team Reds Sentenced To Prison, Fined

Baltimore (AP) — Six Communist conspirators were sentenced to a total of 20 years in prison and fined $1,000 each yesterday overplotting to advocate violent overthrow of the United States government.

The sixth has served as a party attorney and participated in their meetings.

Their attorneys immediately began preparing appeals. Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut ordered them jailed until he decides on a motion for bail Monday. The government has asked a minimum of $50,000 bond each.

FBI To Hunt Down Corruption In Government

Washington (AP) — James P. McGranery, the new attorney general, said yesterday that J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI will be given the job of searching for corruption in government.

"If there is anything wrong, we will find it out," McGranery said at the White House after he had met with President Truman for almost an hour.

The first chore, according to McGranery: "Find out if a cleanup is necessary."

But he seemed to think a cleanup will be needed, for he told reporters:

"I think the President is a great man. These fellows who let him down with their hypocrisy or crookedness ought to be prosecuted. I would not hesitate to prosecute them whoever they may be."

In naming Hoover, who heads the FBI, to do the corruption-hunting, McGranery junked the elaborate investigating setup planned by Newbold Morris, who was until Thursday afternoon chief of the clean-up—the corruption-in-government program.

Morris' setup, McGranery said, "will be dismantled quickly."

It was the firing of Morris that set up what appeared to be a chain-reaction. Attorney General J. McGranery fired Morris. Truman then said McGranery had resigned.

Quickly the President named his new man: McGranery, a U.S. district judge in Pennsylvania.

After meeting with Truman, McGranery said:

"We are going to find out if and where the corruption is. I think that the FBI will be capable of advising me as to existing wrongdoers and who the wrongdoers are. It will be my purpose then to use the regular processes of the grand jury."

(President Truman had suggested a legal short-cut for Morris; he asked that Morris be given the right to subpoena witnesses and records. Congress turned him down.)

Even before McGranery hit town, he ran into criticism.

Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), a onetime FBI agent, called him a "whitewash artist" for the way he handled an investigation of charges of Communism in the Amerasia case as an assistant attorney general in 1945.

At the White House, McGranery vigorously denied there was any whitewash.

He said the records shows the whole case, at his directive, was given to the grand jury. Anyway, he said, he was not the prosecutor in the case.

Senators have predicted the Senate will quickly confirm McGranery's nomination.

Velde called McGranery's appointment "a cruel hoax on the American people."

It was in 1945 that the FBI arrested five men and a woman in connection with the discovery of government documents in the office of the magazine Amerasia. They were charged with conspiring to spy during the latter part of the war with Japan. (The magazine, which suspended publication in 1948, specialized in articles on the Far East.)

Eventually two of the six were fined, not on charges of conspiring to spy, but on lesser charges. Accusations against the remaining four were dropped.

Since then the Amerasia case has been discussed and investigated repeatedly, with Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) leading the campaign for those who argue that the case was bungled.

On the other hand, the Justice Department said it did the best it could with the evidence at hand.

A committee headed by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) studied the case in 1946 and reported:

"Few if any of the identifiable classified (secret) documents involved in this case had any real importance in our national defense or our war effort."

President Roosevelt named McGranery to the Justice Department in 1943. In October, 1946, President Truman appointed him Federal judge for Eastern Pennsylvania.

W. U. Claims Service In 48 Cities

New York (AP) — Western Union claimed restored service in 48 major cities yesterday in the second day of a nationwide telegraphers strike.

However, the striking AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union belittled the company claim and still stood on its statement that the strike was almost 100 percent effective.

"Typical propaganda as old as the hills," the union called the company's claim of restored service.

Some government circles gloomily looked forward to a long strike. In some cities, an increase in telephone calls and airmail and special delivery letters was reported in the wake of the Western Union strike.

Morris Takes Parting Shot At Howard McGrath

New York (AP) — Ex-clean-up man Newbold Morris came home from the Washington wars last night to fire a parting shot at the man who had sent him packing.

Newsmen who met Morris at the railroad station asked if he could account for ex-Attorney General J. Howard McGrath's reluctance to submit answers to a financial questionnaire.

"The only explanation I have for his act, aside for the obvious one, is that politicians who have nothing to hide do not withhold records," Morris replied.

The two-month assistant attorney general did not

LAUGHING gaily, Newbold Morris, ousted from his cleanup job by J. Howard McGrath is shown just after he received word that President Truman had fired McGrath. When the photo was taken in Washington, Morris was typing a note which read: "Dear Howard: I am not mad at you; I am only sorry that you do not really want to clean house. Keep your shirt on! Private life is not so bad."

Congregations To Observe Palm Sunday At Special Services

Church School Sets Sunday Goal Of 800

Holy Week, Palm Sunday, through Easter, will be observed in the East Stroudsburg Methodist church. In this season of spiritual resurgence, high goals for the Church School have been established. Carl T. Secor and his corps of 47 teachers and department heads are seeking an attendance of 800 on Palm Sunday morning and 1000 Easter morning.

In the Palm Sunday service at 11 a. m. three choirs will participate—the Church choir, the Chapel choir and the Altar choir. The pastor will speak on "Christ the King." At the close of the morning worship a cross formed from a palm branch will be presented to each worshiper as a symbol of the service. These have been prepared by young ladies of the Intermediate Youth Fellowship.

In the evening service at 7:30 p. m., congregational singing will be assisted by the brass trio, Barry Lambert, Robert Stenlake and Ernest Michelfelder. A trumpet duet, "The Holy City," will be played by Harold Eaton Jr. and Lawrence Miller. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Eaton on the theme, "Christ Before Pilate." Howard Atwell, baritone soloist, will sing "Calvary."

On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the preparatory service will be held in anticipation of the Maundy Thursday service of Holy Communion. In the Holy Thursday service at 7:30 p. m. the doors of the church will be open to receive between 80 and 100 new members.

Good Friday at 12:30 to 2 p. m. the community Good Friday service will be held in the Grace Lutheran church. The Savior's seven last words from the cross will be presented by seven ministers of the locality.

Services Announced

Palm Sunday will be observed tomorrow at the churches comprising the Anasomink Methodist Charge with appropriate music, Rev. Ralph H. Feltham, pastor, said yesterday.

Miss Elaine Papillon will sing "The Palms" at Mt. Zion and the young ladies' choir at Anasomink will also sing this hymn.

The pastor will speak briefly on "The Triumphant Entry."

Mr. Feltham announced these arrangements for Holy Week services:

Cherry Lane, Tuesday 8 p. m.; Anasomink, Wednesday 8 p. m.; Mt. Zion, Holy Thursday, 8 p. m.; Wooddale, Good Friday, 8 p. m.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE CONGREGATION OF Shawnee Presbyterian Church is that the redecoration program has been finished in time for Palm Sunday services. An extensive renovation program began some time ago and is now nearing completion. Services for Palm and Easter Sundays will be held in the church, Rev. Robert M. Bradburn, pastor, has announced. In addition, special "candlelight" services and a reception of new members in conjunction with the Middle Smithfield church, will be held Thursday night, April 10, at the Shawnee church. A choral concert will also be given that night. The Shawnee church will celebrate its 200th anniversary of continuous services this June. (Daily Record photo)

Mrs. Hoffstadt Soloist At Zion Church

Mrs. Mildred Hoffstadt will be soloist at the Palm Sunday preparatory and confirmation service in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Hoffstadt will sing "Hymn of the Last Supper."

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, pastor, will speak on "Church Loyalty." Mr. Blatt will conduct the confirmation service. These confirmants will take the vows of the church: Mrs. William R. Shick, Mrs. William Schoch, Fred T. Possinger, Robert Strunk, Carl Weinberger.

Another group will be received by letter and profession of faith on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Lucy Quig, organist and church director, has selected as her prelude "Palm Branches." Senior choir will sing as an offertory anthem "Ride on, Ride on." As a postlude, Mrs. Quig will play "Postlude from Stabat Mater."

Flowers at the Altar will be placed in memory of Cicero Gerhart and those in the chancel vase will be placed by Miss Blanche Wolfe in memory of Miss Alice Morey.

Chester Bonser, Emmett Fabel, Claude Miller and Fred Scheller will serve as ushers at morning service.

Young People's and Junior choirs

Dedication Scheduled

Shawnee-on-Delaware—Rev. Robert M. Bradburn, pastor, will conduct dedication services tomorrow in the redecoration Presbyterian Church here Sunday morning.

Mr. Bradburn will use as his text Isaiah 2:7—"And I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of Hosts." His theme will be "The Temple of God's Glory."

At the 7 p. m. worship period the congregation will be joined by members of the Middle Smithfield and Delaware Water Gap churches for a full length motion picture on "The Crucifixion."

of the church under direction of Mrs. Dorothy Dunn with Douglas Gordon at the console and Mrs. Madalyn Maloney as reader will present a pre-Easter program at 7:30 p. m.

Members of Young People's choir are Carol Hillard, Barbara LaBar, John Hillyard, Bob Bowman, John Gilpin, Bob Rundel, Noel Campbell.

Junior choir members are Kay Altemose, Suzanne Weber, Russell LaBar, Kay Yutz, Vernetta Lack, Donna Rowe, Laura M. Hall, Judy Bush, Mary J. Gilpin, Patty Gargone, Carol Puleo, Janet Beidler, Dianne Yutz, Sharon Beidler and Nancy Altemose.

Millard and Levi Marsh will be ushers for this service.

Presbyterian Choir Plans Lenten Cantata

The morning worship service of the First Presbyterian Church in Stroudsburg will be broadcast over station WVPO tomorrow at 11 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, will deliver a sermon on the subject "Ours to Release or Crucify." The text for this message will be drawn from John 19:10.

Special music will be provided by the senior vested choir. They will sing two numbers by Gounod, "Benedictus" and "Unfold Ye Portals." Mrs. Robert Wolbert will handle the soprano solo roles. The Westminster Choir will sing the opening Introit and assist in the rendering of the hymns.

At the worship service at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, the Senior Choir of 24 voices will present the Lenten cantata "Olivet to Calvary" by J. H. Maunder.

Shirley E. Kubie will serve as soloist. Mr. Kubie is soloist at the First Reformed Church, Easton, and has sung with the Bach Festival Choir of Bethlehem. Other soloists, members of the choir of local church, include Mrs. Robert Wolbert, Miss Margaret Oldorf, soprano, and Ernest R. Farmer, baritone.

The cantata recalls some of the incidents in the last days of the Savior's life on earth.

Confirmation Class To Be Received

Palm Sunday will be observed in St. John's Lutheran Church tomorrow with special services both morning and evening.

At 11 a. m., the following young people will be received into full communicant membership by the Rite of Confirmation to be administered by the pastor, Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsten, Mary Ann Mae Jennings, Barbara Ann Levy, Bonita Jean Renninger, Robert Patterson, Thomas Arthur Schaller and Tanya Schaller. In addition, a class of 25 adults will be received during Holy Week. The pastor will preach on "Your Saviour—Traveling."

Robert H. Cathcart, organist and choirmaster will present the following musical program for this service: Preludes: "Ride on, Ride on in Majesty" and "Air Variations 107." The chancel choir will sing "Palm Branches" and the Senior choir will sing "Send Out Thy Light" while the Junior, chancel and Senior choirs will sing "Hosanna" as an offertory number.

The following officers will serve as ushers: A. F. Everett, C. S. Kitchen, Russell Renninger and George T. Robinson. Harry Deiter will serve as acolyte while Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knepp will have charge of the nursery for preschool children at 10:50 a. m. Memorial flowers will be placed by Mrs. Lucy Heller and family in memory of the husband and father, Ervin J. Heller; by Mrs. Robert A. Miller in memory of her father, John Dennis Culbertson, and the 1951 confirmation class in honor of this year's class of confirmants.

At 7:30 p. m. the Lenten cantata "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" by J. H. Maunder will be presented by the augmented Senior choir of 25 voices under the direction of Mr. Cathcart. The soloists will be Miss J. Lelp and Miss Charlotte Horner, soprano; Mrs. Marjorie Barner, alto; Theodore J. Meyer and Walter Brown, tenor, and Dorel Mader, baritone. In addition to the solo parts there are a number of choral numbers.

Walter Schlough, organist and director, will conduct the choir as they sing, "Ride On in Majesty," by J. Farmer, and "Lift Up Your Heads."

The four deacons who have been chosen to usher are Elmer Bean, Lester Dimmick, George Doolittle and Charles Schaller.

Miss Dolores Dellaria will conduct the devotions for youth on Sunday night.

Sunday School Conducts Contest
Brooksideville—The Union Sunday School of the Zion church, Brooksideville, begins a contest Sunday among classes to increase membership and attendance. The contest is to continue through April and May and at the close, the winning class is to be entertained by the rest of the Sunday School.

Fifty colored slides "God's Children Japan," will be shown in the Sunday School Sunday morning. The slides are rented by the Woman's Missionary Society for the use of the Sunday School.

'The Crucifixion' Is Sermon Topic

Henryville—"The Crucifixion" was the sermon subject by the pastor Wednesday night during Lenten services at Pocono Union Church. Colored slides were used to illustrate the sermon.

Tomorrow at 11 a. m. infant baptism and reception of new members will occur. The choir will sing the anthem "Hosanna in the Highest."

Rite Of Confirmation To Be Administered At Services In Two Lutheran Churches

The sacred rite of confirmation will be administered to the following catechumens at the 10:45 a. m. service in Grace Ev. Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and the 7:45 p. m. vespers confirmation service in St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church of Smithfield, respectively, on Palm Sunday by Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church and St. Paul's Church pastor: Miss Denethy Ann Custard, Carol Joan Fish, Myrtle Christine Getz, Patricia Ann Getz, Phillis Mae Hartmann, Carol Joan Muschko and Janice Elaine Wildrick.

Minister To Baptize Four Children

The Presbyterian Church of East Stroudsburg will observe Palm Sunday at Church School and worship tomorrow morning.

Just previous to the sermon, four infants will receive the Sacrament of Baptism. They include W. Scott Dreisbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Dreisbach; Sue Ann Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sedgewick Henning; Gary Norman Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Huffman; and Arthur Allen Shick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shick. The god-parents are, respectively, Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Janusz, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Huffman, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Von Erock.

Four friends from across the Atlantic will join the membership during the hour. They are Mr. and Mrs. Emil Alyn and Mr. and Mrs. Gregor Sydnyk.

Rev. Frank Wingerter has chosen "The Eyes of Jesus" as his sermon topic.

Walter Schlough, organist and director, will conduct the choir as they sing, "Ride On in Majesty," by J. Farmer, and "Lift Up Your Heads."

The four deacons who have been chosen to usher are Elmer Bean, Lester Dimmick, George Doolittle and Charles Schaller.

Miss Dolores Dellaria will conduct the devotions for youth on Sunday night.

High School Choruses To Give Program

The singing of "The Palms" the traditional Palm Sunday classic, by the entire congregations will open the observation of this day in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Sunday.

All three choirs will share in the service of worship which will recall the triumphant entry of Jesus into ancient Jerusalem. From Handel's "Messiah," the Senior Choir will sing "Lift Up Your Heads." The Youth Choir and the Sanctuary Choir will unite to sing "In These Is Joy" and the Sanctuary Choir will set the standard of the worship of the entire congregation as they sing, "Hosanna Loud Hosanna."

Rev. Walter S. Johnston, minister, will preach "The Reception Center."

At the Palm Sunday vespers service at 7:30 p. m., the combined choruses of the Stroudsburg High School, a group of 85 voices under the direction of Numa Snyder and accompanied at the piano by Kathryn Ann Hickey, will present the message in music. The program will include selections by the Girls Chorus, others by the Deccettes, and a final group by the combined choruses. The entire congregation will join in a hymn of favorite Palm Sunday hymns. Rev. Johnston will preach briefly on "King of Kings."

Rev. Johnston has announced that his church is planning a special service on the Sunday after Easter, April 20, at 11 a. m.

Moravians Prepare For Passion Week

Palm Sunday and Passion Week services in the Canadensis Moravian church will commence with the singing of the "Hosanna" by the choirs and congregation in the 11 a. m. service Sunday. Both Junior and Senior choirs will take part further in the service. There will be infant baptism and reception of members with the pastor's sermon, "Hail to the King."

Each night of the week, except Saturday, the Passion Week services with the reading of the acts and words of the Lord will be held at 8 p. m. with the Good Friday service at 2:15. Sunday the service will be at 7:30 p. m.

Easter Sunday morning the congregation will gather in the church at 5:15 for the sunrise service which is concluded in the cemetery.

Dr. Kitto To Conduct Session

Rev. Charles D. Whittaker said yesterday Dr. Charles D. Kitto, superintendent of Philadelphia District of Methodist Church, will conduct a fourth quarterly conference for his charge at Wesley Brick Church, Frutwyl, Pa.

Conference is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

A special Palm Sunday service has been planned for the Swiftwater Church. Miss Audrey Hamblin will present special organ music. Youth choir is to sing a special Easter anthem featuring various soloists and a trio. Glen Boote will be guest soloist.

Mr. Whittaker's sermon topic at Arlington Heights, Swiftwater, Wesley Brick where Sand Hill congregation will join in the services, will be "The Word of Intercession."

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart!
On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King.

On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross.

How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God!

The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion!

Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Secrecy on Relief

When Pennsylvania's Legislature was considering a bill to open relief rolls to public inspection, a number of arguments were raised against it, principally by professional social workers.

Publication of the lists, it was said, would expose the relievers to public humiliation. It would make their names available to people who use them wrongly.

Listening to these objections, the House failed to approve a bill passed by the Senate. Pennsylvania's relief rolls still are secret, even though a federal ban against their publication has been removed.

In Illinois, however—where the objections were similar—the Legislature went ahead and opened the relief rolls to public inspection. And now we have a report on the first four months of operation of the new-type, look-see relief rolls.

Garrett W. Keaster, of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, says the removal of secrecy has worked to the advantage of everybody, including the relievers.

It has eased the job of relief administration, deterred many ineligible from trying to get on relief, and given the relievers a check-up on their status.

Best of all, it has scotched—Mr. Keaster says—those rumors that always are in circulation that the relief rolls are loaded with persons who shouldn't be drawing relief.

In Pennsylvania, we call those undeserving relievers "chiselers." And the available evidence indicates that we've got a lot of them. To be precise, a Legislative Commission complained that we had $16 millions worth of them in a recent two-year period.

That's a lot of money, and it came from individual taxpayers who paid into the treasury to keep their needy fellow citizens from want.

Those same taxpayers have no interest in humiliating or exploiting the relievers. Public assistance is well established in our law and the public accepts it as a proper governmental function.

But the taxpayers have a right to know—by personal inspection, if necessary—that their money is going for a lawful purpose.

Illinois, under the law, gives a look at the relief rolls to anyone willing to sign his name and state his purpose. We hope that next year Pennsylvania's Legislature favors some similar system.

Even if we save only half that $16 millions, it will be worth it, and the experience of Illinois indicates that nobody will get hurt—except the chiselers.

The Brighter Side

Even inflation, it is pleasant to be able to point out is not without its compensations.

Out in Chicago, 10-year-old Eula Mae McGlothlin tore up and discarded $740 in bills she found on a bedroom floor at her home.

Her parents, of course, can take heart in the fact that they actually lost only $370 or so, in buying power.

Prussia, in 1836, was the first government to grant international copyrights.

John Jacobs Astor imported the first pianos into the United States in 1784.

Nearly 20 per cent of the words used in conversational English come from the Latin language.

The navel orange is a native of Brazil.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The State of Europe divides itself into three distinct areas in terms of civilization: Western Europe, which is based upon Christianity; Eastern Europe, which has been influenced by orthodox Christianity and now by Marxism; Moslem Europe, which abuts upon Asia and Africa, but has, at times, influenced the peoples of both Western and Eastern Europe.

These areas are widely disparate in traditions, thought, habits and motivation. For about four thousand years, these geographical divisions, which have been described in strictly modern terms, have, in one way or another, been involved in wars of various kinds. These wars have been mostly the product of the response to the challenge of empire, although there have been other causes.

Whether it was the Persian or the Greek or the Roman or the Carolingian empire, to select a few, in each instance, a period of empire achievement was followed by a period of obsolescence and decay. No nation, for instance, in comparatively modern times achieved a greater distinction than the Spain of Ferdinand and Isabella and none decayed more rapidly or more surely. The life of no empire is eternal. The current situation in Europe therefore offers no novelty

In the sense that we are witnessing the rise of a new empire to the challenge of which all other countries not only in Europe but in the world are responding.

As a matter of fact, four vast empires are in the process of formation. Which of these will dominate the others or the world is a matter for the historical future and the probability is that the answer will not come in our times.

Western Europe, consisting of the following countries, Belgium, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and West Germany, has a population of about 263,000,000. No country of it has a population of over approximately 50,000,000. No country of it is the size of the state of Texas.

Compared to Western Europe, Soviet Russia and her satellites have a population of 300,000,000, of which China alone has a population of 450,000,000. The Moslem world in Africa and Asia and including Turkey has a population of less than 200,000,000. These figures mean that if Western Europe stands together as a unit in alliance with the United States, or the Moslem world, it is possible to offset the advantage of population which Soviet Russia has at this historic moment. To the western group need to be added the countries of the British Commonwealth, who are independent but co-operative. Without such assistance Western Europe can be overrun and incorporated in the Marxist world state.

In the matter of resources, other than human, the state of Western Europe is pitiful. I will take one item: The steel production of Western Europe is 57,000,000 tons. The United States produces 105,000,000 tons; the Marxist world 42,000,000 tons. Western Europe on its own cannot produce enough steel to maintain its own economy and to provide for its own defense. If the figure for Western Europe were broken down country by country, not any one country could produce enough steel to take care of its own economy. The same case can be made for nearly all other basic commodities, including essential food products.

In a word, no single Western European country can altogether maintain an American average standard of living. Italy, for instance, is deeply concerned with the export of population. Great Britain has been exporting people for three centuries.

What saved Europe from the 15th to the 20th century was colonialism, which is the seizure of weak and backward countries by armed force and economic penetration. Countries such as Great Britain, Holland, Belgium, and France are only great powers in the sense that they are great colonial powers. When they lose their colonies, they become second-rate nations. Their economy and their military position are dependent upon colonialism.

Great Britain, therefore, is forced by the circumstances of her position to regard the British Commonwealth of Nations as more important than the continent of Europe. It is this historic fact that explains the weakness of NATO, Britain's China policy, the rejection of MacArthur in Korea and her uncertainties in the United Nations. Similarly, France is more concerned with Tunisia and French Indo-China than with NATO. The emphasis is the preservation of the remnants of empire in an imperial era.

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

The local ne'er-do-well beseeched his grocer for just one more item on credit: a sack of flour to feed his starving wife and babes. The grocer asked suspiciously, "How do I know that you're not up to your usual tricks, and will sell the flour so you can go see South Pacific when it opens here next week?" "You can trust me, Tom," pleaded the ne'er-do-well. "I had that thirty bucks stashed away long ago."

Bennet Shaw's criticism of the marriage ritual: "When two people are under the influence of the most violent, most insane, most delusive and most transient of passions, they are required to solemnly swear they will remain in that excited, abnormal and exhausting condition continuously until death do them part."

In Washington, Red China spies are referred to as "Peiping Toms."

Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Jesus' discourse in John 15 was given on Thursday of Holy Week. In it Christ used a simile that would be familiar to those listening to Him. He said, "I am the true vine, and My Father is the husbandman. Every branch in Me that beareth not fruit He taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, He purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit."

"Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you."

"Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in Me."

"I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without Me ye can do nothing."

"If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

"As the Father hath loved Me, so have I loved you: continue ye in My love."

This metaphor of a vine in reference to the people of God is frequently found in the Old Testament.

The vine is familiar to all peoples. It is one of the most graceful of plants. It is distinguished for the fragrance of its blossoms, the symmetry of its fruit. Painters suggest that we study its perfection of form, color, light and shade, all united in one object.

The branches must depend upon the vine for everything. Without Christ, the Vine, we can do nothing. With Him we can do anything.

"As the Father hath loved Me, so have I loved you: continue in My love."

Soon the day before His suffering and death, the Apostles must have well remembered His words and they inspired them to resist their enemies; to defy the commands of earthly men; to continue to preach Christ's gospel in spite of cruel persecutions.

What a world it would be if even we, small and inconsequential as we be, would remember always His words of love one to another; if it were to return love for hate, kind deeds for our persecutors instead of giving hate for hate; hard words for insults.

In Paul's time, and largely through his missionary work, the gospel of Christ had spread to many lands. In Rome there seemed to be a thriving church, and Paul knew many there—we are amazed how many he knew when at that time he had never been to Rome.

In his letter he refutes forever the charge generally held that he despised women. He sends affectionate greetings and gratitude to many women—Phoebe, "our sister," Priscilla, Mary, "who bestowed much labor on you." This Mary is apparently not to be identified with any of the other Marys. There are others including "the sister of Nereus" and the mother of Rufus "and mine."

He also gave them good counsel: "Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offenses contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them."

"For your obedience is come abroad unto all men, I am glad therefore on your behalf; but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil." He ends his letter with: "To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ forever, Amen."

To the Philippians when he was in prison, Paul wrote: "Do all things without murmurings and disputings."

"That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as light in the world."

None of us can be perfect, but if we would only remember Paul's words about "murmurings and disputings," our homes and our churches would be much nearer perfection than most of them are this day.

Further Paul wrote: "Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither labored in vain."

"Yes, and I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of you."

In his epistle to the brethren at Colosse, Paul sent his personal greetings to his friends, telling them, "Tychicus, who is a beloved brother," would declare of his (Paul's) state, as Paul had sent him to them to do so and to discover their condition and "comfort their hearts."

Our lesson is too long to name all the friends to whom Paul sent salutations, but "Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas," who were with Paul, sent their greetings, too. He concludes this epistle with the words, "The salutation by the hand of me, Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen."

How many followers had been added to the small church group that were in Palestine when Jesus was crucified to glory?

All in the Family

—By Jack Leit

Baseball is my first love. I have played it, reported it, lived it, followed it, not only the home teams but the whole map, minor as well as major, for many years. I was a catcher. Every finger on my right hand is battered.

The first uniform I wore was for Lewis Institute, in Chicago, since absorbed into the Illinois Institute of Technology. I still have the heavy-ribbed woolen goose-neck sweater with the big blue L I won. And my grandchildren ask what that funny-looking thing is.

After that I was with several semi-pro teams, but gave up playing because I got a newspaper job and couldn't get afternoons off.

My ambition of course, was to write baseball. But I didn't make it for some time, and when I did I never finished out a full season, because some big story always broke and I was pulled away to cover it.

Now that a new year is about to dawn, I feel my blood stirring, tingling impatiently for the opening game.

The pastime has a hold on America and some other countries which is beyond that of any other sport anywhere. I know that that will be disputed. But I stand on it.

No other contest-game could play out 154 years with as many teams engaged, in any other land on earth. American horse-racing may approach it, but it does not match the same contestants in the same parks recurrently, on fixed schedules. Moreover, racing uses virtually no defense and therefore, while it is competitive, it is not a game.

Analyzing baseball, I conclude that its basic hold on the multitude lies in its myriad instant potentialities and its unique construction, whereby, no matter how much team play is involved, every act is always that of one man at any one time.

The nearest it ever comes to "interference" is the blocking of a double play or a base-runner tantalizing a pitcher to distract him.

No matter how swift any other act is, it must be executed by one man at a time, unsupported at that time.

Furthermore, these athletes must use every faculty—speed, strength, instant thinking and accuracy which can come only with intensive training and repetitive practice.

The lightning judgment, of course, is not usually formed at the last second.

Your players, after each situation arises, weigh what they must do in every contingency that may arise on the next pitch. They place themselves according to the best potential action, mentally prepared for a hit, a grounder, a fly, a bunt—or a steal, a hit-and-run, a base on balls, any form of an out—all that with reference to the score, to the situation on the bases and the qualities of the "enemy."

In time those decisions, fixed before the pitch, become automatic. But there is still the human equation, the differences between men, to make every move subject to mental and physical execution according to the varied faculties of individual players.

All this makes for sustained suspense.

Another element that lifts baseball is the fact that it has no

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

Hadn't we better stop laughing at the monkeys until we find out what the monkeys think about us?

I wonder whether what we think of ourselves matters as much as what other species and races think of us.

Take the case of the eighteen pigmy bushmen who came to Capetown in South Africa to have their first look at the white man's civilization.

After looking around for a while, they shrugged their shoulders and said "We'll go back to the bush, thank you."

And Capetown is a city just as highly civilized as any in our own country. It has saloons, night clubs, speeding automobiles, burglars and all the other modern conveniences.

The dispatch said that these pygmies enjoyed a few good "bolly laughs," bought some funny hats and had themselves photographed.

But they were emphatic that loin cloths were much more practical than pants; that the drink they made from melons was far superior to the white man's fire water, and that snake meat with some dried berries and roots on the side was infinitely more tasty than steak and asparagus.

So, after a short sojourn in Capetown, they went back to their camp at the South African "Tercentenary" where they were being exhibited as "curiosities" and took up their usual occupation—the manufacture of poisoned arrows.

Incidentally — just as a report and not at all referring to our civilization — in Germany more than sixty men applied for time limit except by rain or darkness, and of late the artificial lights have eliminated the latter in almost every important park.

The game is played out until one side has won and not until the watch shows a set number of minutes consumed. I have seen a 21-inning game and played in an 18-inning one. That cannot happen in football, for instance; photo-finish races are not return-run out to a conclusion; boxing-matches do not go overtime after a draw decision. When the bell rings the whistle blows that's all.

Few Americans think of it, but they all feel that baseball is something native. Even if the position of night watchman in a nudist camp, German authorities said most of the applicants were from fifty to seventy years of age.

But now, speaking of civilization, let us get serious for a moment.

No decent person in the whole world—and I least of all—condones thievery in government.

Nor can we possibly approve of policemen, firemen, tax collectors or any other government employees accepting bribes or stealing money.

But one of the remarkable things is that so many of these thieves are so terribly underpaid, and thus so definitely exposed to temptation.

House investigators recently looked into the affairs of an Internal Revenue Bureau clerk who last year spent $18,200 on a house, bought expensive furnishings, a television set and a new car.

"How could he do it on a salary of $3,500 a year?" he was asked. How could the government pay such a man only $3,500 a year—less than $60 a week take-home-pay?

I noticed that almost every one of the exposed crooks in government was in a position to meet and deal with people who had or made a lot of money.

It takes a crook to catch a crook, is an old saying. While exaggerated, there is some measure of truth in it.

In the case of bribery I think the briber is every bit as guilty as the man who accepts a bribe. The tempter is just as much to blame as he who lets himself be tempted.

And I don't think we can call ourselves civilized until we pay those who handle money—or have power over others—sufficient wages to place them beyond temptation.

There is a remote progenitor in something that was started in a primitive way in England, or further back among savages who hit and caught objects, this is strictly a United States product and development.

Its nearest rival in popular support is racing. But that, it has been repeatedly proven, cannot exist without betting, which is an infinitesimal factor in baseball. The Sporting News, to which I am a lifetime subscriber, which covers the whole field to its most minute details everywhere, scarcely ever finds an inch of space for mention of wagering or odds.

Hollywood—"My Son John" is a powerful anti-Communist film distinguished by a fine farewell appearance by the late Robert Walker and superb acting by Broadway's Helen Hayes. But some apparent improvisation toward the end, necessitated by Walker's sudden death, weakens its final punch.

An average-looking family in a medium-size town has three sons. The father (Dean Jagger) teaches school. The mother (Miss Hayes) dotes on her sons, two of whom (Richard Jaeckel and James Young) go off to war. She is puzzled, then unbelieving, and finally agonized as it slowly becomes apparent that her third son (Walker) is a Communist.

He has an important post in Washington.

Home on a visit, Walker makes fun of a loudly patriotic speech his father is to deliver before his American Legion post. Walker, "the bright one in the family," taunts the parish priest (Frank McHugh): "We take care of you in this world. You say you'll take care of us in the next."

His father is belligerent toward his "scummy" (Commie) insinuations. But he convinces his mother that he's really just for "downtrodden minorities." A G-man (Van Hefflin) finally and painfully sets her straight.

Floundering for a finish as dramatic as what has gone before, the film resorts to gangster-melodrama. Pursuers murder Walker in a taxi overturning on the steps of a Washington monument. (Actually Walker was dead at this point. A remarkably similar double was used in this scene, as well as another in a darkened office.)

The climax—that-lets-down is a recorded speech by a now repentant Walker (actually his voice recorded the last day he worked.) The speech is played before a graduating class. The sentiments are fine, but the dramatic effect is crippling. A soft stream of light pouring down on the vacant pulpit is cheapening and contrived. And the sudden reformation of the conceited young intellectual has not been made convincing.

But the picture has been ideally cast, and all performances are excellent.

East Borough Postoffice Receipts 19th Highest In State

1951 Revenue Of $476,677 Sets Record

Record over-the-counter receipts at East Stroudsburg's postoffice in 1951 have skyrocketed its standing in the State to 19th position.

This startling fact was revealed yesterday by Norman Gregory, postmaster who said only 25 postoffices in Pennsylvania attained sales over $400,000 during the year. And Gregory predicted the 1952 total will go over the $500,000 mark. If business for the remainder of the year continues as it did the first quarter.

Showing a steady climb annually, the total of $476,677.77 recorded as of Dec. 31, sets the record and represents a decided increase since Gregory took over as postmaster in 1936. At that time receipts were only $150,000.

Gregory said the exceptional volume of business is due to the wealth of industrial power in the borough, presence of a large publishing house, State Teachers College and through other mediums that mail daily.

And the accumulated figure for the first three months of this year also has set a new mark. Receipts March 31 were $140,920.67, a hike over the same period in 1951 when records show $113,369.54 was collected.

In 1951 the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31 outdistanced receipts from the other quarterly periods, since $129,244.10 was realized. This is attributed obviously to the Christmas rush. From April 1 through June 30 the total was $119,709.46 and for July, August and September, $114,354.68.

The month of October, 1951 proved the most profitable financially on gross collections, since $45,710.71 was received.

With only 30 employees on the payroll, Gregory said his workers have performed admirably, since most postoffices in the State's 25 who have attained recognition for volume of business, have many more employees.

In a general breakdown Gregory pointed out that $16,898.98 of 1951's business transactions came from sales of stamps, and another $16,425.01 was for second class matter. Metal machines, in operation in many industrial plants brought in $27,600 of the gross.

Game Protectors Besieged After Fox Bites Falls Girl

Paul Failor, coordinator of the anti-rabies drive in the Northeastern district, said last night that the drive has progressed very well throughout most of the territory covered so far and that "cooperation from the public has been good in almost all areas."

Game protectors and Federal Fish and Wildlife Service agents have been literally deluged with requests for the poisoning service in regions around Wilkes-Barre and in Wyoming County.

Requests from the latter area have nearly doubled during the past two days, since a five-year-old Falls, Pa. girl was bitten by a fox in the yard of her family home.

The girl, Frances Ann Wach, was bitten Tuesday afternoon. The child's mother, Mrs. Edward Wach, was in the kitchen doing the laundry a short time before when she said she "heard a noise and turned around in the kitchen to see a grey fox walking across the floor."

Mrs. Wach stood still and watched as the fox made its way to the dining room of the house, then rushed out on the porch and lifted her two younger children up on chairs.

"Before I could get to Frances Ann the fox came back out the door," Mrs. Wach said. "The fox did not attack any of us on the porch but ran down the steps and jumped on Frances Ann. It grabbed her by the left arm but when she screamed it let go and ran away."

Mrs. Wach then grabbed her daughter and ran to the highway where a passing motorist stopped and took her to the office of Dr. O. L. Reynolds in Tunkhannock. The child was given the first shot in a series of 14 vaccine injections against rabies.

Failor, in discussing the incident, emphasized particularly the fact that "the animal that bit that child was, possibly a few days before, a perfectly normal animal."

After the animal has become infected with the rabies virus there occurs an incubation period during which time the animal is able to eat and drink as much as it wants.

Once the virus passes through the nerve centers into the brain, however, the animal is doomed. From that time on it may be expected to live only five or six additional days. During the final stage of rabies the animal is unable to eat or drink because it cannot swallow.

Red Cross Drive $3,000 Shy Of Goal

The 1952 fund campaign for the American Red Cross which ends today in Monroe County is within $3,000 of its goal, it was reported last night at the executive board meeting at the Red Cross headquarters.

Robert Schell, chairman of the 1952 campaign, in announcing the total, pointed out that several other districts have gone over the top but plan to bring their returns into headquarters today, and with those returns he confidently expects the campaign to go over the top.

A $700 raise in the county quota was made mid-way in the campaign to provide for victims of the recent tornado, and brought this year's total goal to $14,515.

George T. Robinson, chapter chairman, presided at the meeting when reports were given by the various chairmen.

Mrs. LeRoy Koehler's report showed that during the month of March 78 volunteers had given 884 hours of service with the blood bank absorbing 206 hours, and the hospital through its Grey Ladies and nurses aids 664 hours.

LeRoy Mikels gave the report of the recent visit of the blood bank.

A complete report of the township and borough standings in the fund campaign is given today in the scorecard on Page 7 of today's Daily Record.

Brush Fire Threatens Properties

The Marshalls Creek Fire Co. was called to the premises of Dr. Frank E. Halstead, back of Wooddale in Price township, at 11:25 a. m. yesterday when a brush fire got out of hand and threatened valuable property.

Ralph Miller, chief of the fire company, said last night that the caretaker on the premises was burning brush which spread rapidly, practically surrounding a dwelling on the property, and then veered toward Dr. Halstead's residence.

There were 17 members of the

G. S. Leaders See Preview Of Calendar

Plans for the annual spring dinner of the Girl Scout Council of Monroe county were discussed at the meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders association held Thursday night at the Girl Scout house. The dinner will be held on Thursday, April 24, at Log Cabin, with reservations due by April 22.

The dinner and meeting, open to all executive board members, troop consultants, troop committees, as well as leaders and assistant leaders, will be followed by an auction sale. Members are asked to bring items for the sale the proceeds of which will be used for the camp fund.

The leaders also are planning a cake sale for the camp fund to be held sometime in May.

The camp, whose first building is now being erected on Mosiers Knob, is at present one of the main objects of the leaders.

April 20 has been set aside as a work day at Camp Lloyd Treble, with all amateur masons and helpers invited to come try their hand. The leaders and their friends will prepare to serve sandwiches and coffee for the workers.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Sonya James, national representative for the 1953 National Girl Scout calendar, showed a preview of the calendar which pictures many Monroe County Girl Scouts. Mrs. James, who now makes her home in Stroudsburg, has used local troop activities for about 8 of the 12 pictures, and the leaders were most enthusiastic about the calendars. Mrs. Harland Bard presided at the meeting.

Baby Shower Is Held For Mrs. Slutter

Among the guests were: Mrs. Florence Slutter, Mrs. Shirley Taylor, Mrs. Doris Taylor, Mrs. Betty Sweda, Mrs. Mary Allan and daughter, Ginger; Mrs. Doris Richardson, Mrs. Joyce Piancooli, Mrs. Emily Rundle, Mrs. Harriet Taylor, Mrs. Loretta Cammari, Mrs. Margaret Snyder and daughter, Melaine; Mrs. Phyllis Slutter, Mrs. Joyce Calabrese.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were: Mrs. Alice Crow, Mrs. Anna Drake, Mrs. Dorothy Lambert and Mrs. Charles Strunk.

Installation Monday

St. John's Sisterhood Dames of Malta will hold installation of officers at their meeting Monday night at 8 at the Malta Temple in Stroudsburg. Deputy Lillian Hughes and her staff will be in charge of the installation.

Meeting Tonight

Post 56, Society of the 28th Division and its auxiliary will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Horatio Haas Sr., of King St., Stroudsburg at 7:30. A covered dish supper will be served following the meeting.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

So, I'll admit that the editors and reporters on the Stroudsburg High Mountaineer can fill my shoes any old time. But I'm not making any promises about trying to fill theirs. Particularly not their gym shoes. I know after watching that exhibit last night.

They not only have no bones, but they have no weight at all—or so it seemed to see them floating like feathers in headstands and back flips on the ground or on the parallel bars—or making like the Rockettes in their dances.

Thought when they started the Charleston that maybe here's where I could join in—but not after I saw how long they could do it and not even be breathing hard.

All in all, it was a very satisfactory day, including some stories with a twist—like the crow, and the doghouse for Tommy Shanley—and everybody so hopeful about the Red Cross drive. Today tells the tale.

And now back to my ironing—as my ghost writer said. But oh no—today is Saturday, and it's just back to sleep for me, and off to the weddings for you.

School Visitor Is Something To Crow-About

Mary's little lamb had nothing on the ambitious crow who not only has been following children to school these warm spring days but following them home again, too.

He is apparently sampling the various consolidated schools of the county trying to decide on which offers the best in education—or perhaps free lunches.

He was first reported at the Smithfield school where he came swooping in one recess time to overlook the early spring ball game. Lunchtime too found him still ready to join in the fun and games—and lunches. It was only during classes that he deserted the playground for the tree-tops to come back again in time to see the school buses leave.

After several weeks at Smithfield, he was next reported at the Delaware Water Gap school, and more recently has joined the student body at Clearview school. In fact he has selected Clarence Transue Jr. as the boy most likely to succeed in providing supper time refreshments and walked home with him for the first time on Thursday night, patiently curbing his flight to keep pace with a small boy's pace.

Last night, he repeated the performance and seems to be set for the weekend.

Most plausible theory is that he was some child's pet perhaps in the south, and now is looking in the most likely place for a new friend. At any rate, wherever there is heard the shouts of children at play, he is likely to come winging in, particularly at recess time.

To the children at least he also upholds the general reputation that, crows have for superior intelligence by winging away again at class time. Here is one Corvus americanus who has no crow to pick with education.

Housewarming, Anniversary Celebrated

A housewarming was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Freeman at their home on Greene St., Stroudsburg, on Thursday night by Mr. Freeman's fellow employees at the J. C. Penney Co.

The party also marked the anniversary of Mrs. Maude Shepley's 22nd year with the Penney store, and she was presented with a corsage. The guests also presented the Freeman's with a gift for their new home.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Max Stadfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and daughter Susanne, Mrs. Regina Van Over, Mrs. Vickie Spinner, Mrs. Lucille Diehl, Mrs. Esther Ainspach, Miss Gloria Shafer and Miss Eleanor Brown, Dick Henning and Joe Scott.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Evelyn Staples, Mrs. Mary Smith, Charles Serman, Joseph Smith, Grace James and Mary Bittner.

Miss Diana Bryan Is Honored At Supper Party

A party in honor of Miss Diana Bryan, who will become the bride of Thomas J. Shanley on April 19, was held last night by Mrs. Jane Lenington at her home, 519 Brown St., Stroudsburg.

A buffet supper was served with the table decorated with pink candles and a bouquet of snapdragons. Afterwards, Miss Bryan was presented with a wicker basket filled with gifts for her kitchen.

A surprise filip was given to the party with the discovery of a small gingerbread house—a miniature dog-house for the prospective bridegroom.

Guests included Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. Howard Keiper, Mrs. Arthur Fry, Mrs. Charles Auger, Miss Gloria Shafer, Miss Cynthia Doan, Mrs. Thomas Leonard, Mrs. Charles Bensinger, Mrs. Alex Bensinger, Mrs. Charles P. Bryan, Miss Isabelle Culley, Mrs. G. E. Shanley Sr., Mrs. G. E. Shanley Jr., the guest of honor, Diana Bryan and the hostess, Mrs. Jane Lenington.

Gradates To Visit County Home On Monday

The Gradate Sorority will visit the County Home at Kellersville Monday night when they will entertain for the guests and also serve ice cream and cookies. Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of Stroudsburg First Presbyterian Church, will bring the message.

All members are asked to gather at the YMCA ready to leave at 7:30. Transportation will be furnished.

Those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Keiper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bonser, Mr. and Mrs. William McGore, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Altomere, Mr. and Mrs. Clara Witt, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor Jr., Mrs. Lane Weller, Mrs. Mary Keiper, Mrs. John Keiper, Mrs. Leona Berger, Mrs. Carrie Durland, Mrs. Helen B. Smith, Mrs. Mildred Wilson, Mrs. Doris Flowers, Mrs. Carrie Witt, Mrs. Gladys Altomere, Mrs. Gladys Taylor, Mrs. Dorothy May, Joyce Altomere, Phyllis Keiper, Mabel Costanzo, Eleanor Durland, Judy Bonser, Sharon Ann Wilson, Wanda Keiper, Gloria Keiper, Cinca Flowers, Gerald Keiper, Donald Altomere, Donald and Ralph Witt, Eugene Bonser, Rodger Elias, and John Keiper Jr.

The tables had been decorated with forsythia and pussy-willows with favors at each place miniature candlesticks with Lifesaver handles, and birthday candles which were lighted for the dinner.

The membership of the auxiliary now stands at 375 members within five of the quota set for the round up on April 25. Two new members were voted in this week: Mrs. Geraldine Brinker, and Mrs. Helen Lockard.

Mrs. Charles Reid, community service chairman, reported that all the equipment kept by the auxiliary for public use, was now in use, including the hospital beds and wheelchairs.

The auxiliary voted $5 for the heart fund campaign and $35 for the department president's project, which this year is a stage for the Scotland school.

Mrs. Vincent Marek, president of the Four County council, reported on the recent council meeting at Bethlehem, and announced the plans for a dinner in honor of the national president, Mrs. Euga Campbell, and the state president, Mrs. Graydon Painter. It will be held in Philadelphia on May 15, and several members of the local auxiliary plan to attend.

Announcement was also made of the big merchandise show to be given by the merchants on April 17, 18 and 19, in the Legion auditorium. It is sponsored by the men of the post, and the auxiliary will operate the kitchen. The auxiliary also plans to serve dinners to two men's bowling leagues this month.

New officers will be nominated at the May meeting.

Again Recuperating Mrs. Carolyn Altmann, of East Stroudsburg, RD, has been back on the sicklist for the past two weeks. She was recuperating from a previous illness when she contracted pneumonia. Her daughter came from Harbor to care for her and she is now much improved. During her illness she received many get-well cards as well as fruit and flowers from her friends.

The second party was held on Monday, March 31 at the home of her parents. Those who attended were Philip Vonelli, Jo Ann and Patricia De Mario and Debora Jean Ascoli.

Adults present were Mr. and Mrs. John Albert, Mrs. Leslie Vonelli, Mario de Mario, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ascoli, Mrs. Lucy Capone, and Jo Ann's parents.

Doughnuts Mounting To 10,000 Mark

The Women's Guild of the Grace Lutheran church are nearing 10,000 doughnuts in their pre-Easter baking. They made and sold 3,768 doughnuts this week in an all-day baking session with Florence Bush, guild president, and Stella Nace, past president, in charge.

Added to the total of the previous two Wednesdays, they have now sold 9,612 doughnuts and the orders are still pouring in.

Mrs. Halstead Entertains Club

Mrs. Carrie Halstead, of 820 Thomas St., entertained the members of the Fighting Seven Keno club on Wednesday night at her home.

Plans were made for a meeting on April 9 when all members are asked to bring a small gift for the grab bag.

Refreshments were served. Members present were Mrs. Louretta Franks, Mrs. Rena Bago, Mrs. Carrie Slutter, Mrs. Loretta Hunsicker, Mrs. Mary Nevil, Mrs. Emma Neader and the hostess, Mrs. Halstead.

PARTLY-PLEATED—Pale yellow silk fashions this cocktail dress for 1952 Resort wear—from the Joseph Halpert collection designed in America by Jacques Fath. An attached yellow taffeta underskirt gives extra crispness to the skirt, finely pleated in the center front and centered with a deep inverted pleat in back.

Y Auxiliary Plans Annual May Supper

The regular meeting of the YMCA auxiliary was held in the "Y" rooms on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. M. S. Baldwin, presided at the business session at which time it was announced that the auxiliary would have a food sale at Wyckoff's store on May 24. All members please have this date in mind and they will be contacted at a later date.

The annual covered dish supper of the directors and their wives, and the auxiliary members and their husbands will be held May 13 in the "Y" rooms.

Mrs. Roy Jouser, Mrs. J. H. Stofflet and Mrs. Nelson Frantz will compose a Nominating Committee to arrange for the officers for next year.

Mrs. Baldwin introduced Mrs. Harry F. Miller, who presented an "Easter Legend" by Alice Sligh Turnbull. This was a story of the little chore-girl at the inn on the road to Emmaus, who had seen the Christ teaching at the Temple and had baked him some loaves of fine white bread. On reaching Jerusalem she discovered to her sorrow that he had already been crucified. After returning to the inn she decided to serve the bread to three strangers who asked for lodging, and at the breaking of the bread, the presence of the Christ was revealed, and little Martha was happy and blessed.

Tea was served by the hostess committee in charge of Mrs. Will Kraemer.

Mrs. Nick Ervey Relected As WSCS President

Portland—The Woman's Society of Christian service of the Methodist church re-elected Mrs. Nick Ervey as president at the meeting held on Tuesday night at the Ervey home with Miss Edith Emery assisting as co-hostess.

Other officers elected included Mrs. N. C. Reimel, vice president; Mrs. John Ribble, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Gardner, corresponding secretary; Miss Ella Jelinek, treasurer; Miss Ruth Williams, secretary of missionary education; Mrs. Harry Bellis, secretary of Christian social relation; Mrs. R. W. Beeseker, secretary of supplies and Mrs. Daisy Decker, secretary of spiritual life.

At the business meeting the group voted to give $5 to the Red Cross. A report was given on money realized from the recent sauerkraut supper in the social room of the church. They will give one half of the sum to the official board of the church and the rest to the anniversary fund.

Mrs. Daisy Decker was in charge of devotions on the theme, "Brother in the World of Work". Miss Ruth Williams, program chairman, carried out the theme of the devotions in the program.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Margaret McCoy, Mrs. Emma Ross, Miss Ella Jelinek, Miss Ruth Williams, Mrs. Lawrence Randolph, Miss Daisy Newbaker, Mrs. R. W. Beeseker, Mrs. Fred Shumaker, Mrs. John Ribble, Mrs. Harry Farleigh, Miss Kay Ribble, Mrs. N. C. # Hat Parade Planned By Sunshine Class

The Sunshine class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church will hold an Easter parade of original hats at their meeting next Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Warwick, Brown St., at 7:30 p. m. The original hat parade has become a tradition with the class, with prizes awarded for the most original, funniest and prettiest creations.

Mrs. Jay Peters is chairman of the hostess committee which also includes Mrs. Russell Transue, Mrs. Mae Rupprecht, Mrs. Cora Arnold, Mrs. Viola Shannon, Mrs. Maude Stem and Miss Lulu Staples.

GOP Council To Make Up Easter Baskets

The Monroe Council of Republican Women is again planning to visit the county home and nursing homes in Monroe county and present to their friends at each place candy eggs and colored eggs for Easter.

Mrs. Russell Scott Jr., chairman of welfare, has requested that all council members leave their contributions at the Hintze Dry cleaning plant by Tuesday, April 10, so that the committee may prepare the baskets which will be delivered on Good Friday.

As it happened, Fran was directly inside the door upon my return. "I didn't think it a beautiful window. I was too revolutionary a departure from the planned look that goes into most Wyckoff displays. But it did attract attention. Several other passersby studied it and one commented casually, "Isn't that unusual?" One woman passed by and then backed up to take a better look at a navy blue dress with a v-neckline feminized by rows of tiny buttons.

That was when the head of our display department exploded. "Great Scott," he bellowed. "You don't think THAT'S our window display do you? Those dresses are hanging there so we can change the mannequins."

Oh well, it just goes to prove that no matter how you display them, Wyckoff dresses look good. You'll look good in them too . . . so why not take a good look today!

SHS Teacher To Wed Today In Phila.

Samuel Mateer Russell Jr., teacher of U. S. history at Stroudsburg High school, will today take as his bride Miss Barbara Louise Hinchcliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Hinchcliffe, of 263 Wynote Road, Jenkintown.

They will be married this afternoon at 2 at the Tioga Presbyterian church, Tioga St., at 16th, Philadelphia. A reception at Grey Towers, Beaver College, will follow the wedding.

When you're poaching eggs see that the skillet has at least an inch of boiling salted water in it. After you've dropped the eggs into the pan reduce the heat to simmer temperature and cook the eggs until the white is set. Use a perforated spoon with which to lift the eggs out of the water so they will be well-drained before they are laid on toast.

As I trotted up Main street in yesterday morning's sunshine, I glanced . . . and glanced again . . . in Wyckoff's window at the latest fashions, surprised and rather awed to see the manner in which they were being displayed. Instead of having the dresses upon mannequins, six of our very newest styles were on hangers hung directly against the glass.

"That Fran Meredith!" I enthused mentally. "He certainly is on the beam. I guess he must have read the window decorating column in Women's Wear Daily." It seems that an entire column had been devoted to inexpensive display ideas, involving a minimum of props, which have been used recently by some of the best known metropolitan stores. One of these stores had attracted attention by suspending all of its very smartest imported gowns from a clothesline, as though they had been hung out to air. It was obvious that Fran had read the idea, liked it, and resolved to let no grass grow under his feet.

To be perfectly honest about it, I didn't think it a beautiful window. It was too revolutionary a departure from the planned look that goes into most Wyckoff displays. But it did attract attention. Several other passersby studied it and one commented casually, "Isn't that unusual?" One woman passed by and then backed up to take a better look at a navy blue dress with a v-neckline feminized by rows of tiny buttons.

Girl Darts Into Path Of Automobile

Milford—Judith Ann Polt, aged eight years, was painfully injured in front of her home, about two miles south of this place on Route 209, at 8:30 a. m. yesterday, when she ran in front of a motor car, while on her way to board an approaching school bus. Pfc. Leo Perwein, of the local State Police barracks reported.

The officer said that Judith and a younger brother were in front of their home waiting for the school bus when the accident happened. The Polt home is located on the west side of the highway.

The police said that when the little girl saw the bus approaching, she ran down the embankment in front of the home and started to dash across the highway.

Clifford Berger, 45, of Matamoras, was driving south on 209 the police said. When he saw the girl start across the road, he swerved his machine in the hope of missing the child. He was unsuccessful, however, and she was hit by the right side of the car.

Mr. Berger, the police said, stopped his car, picked up the child and took her to St. Francis hospital, Port Jervis, N. Y., where examination showed she suffered contusions and abrasions of the body and possible concussion of the brain. She was treated and hospitalized for further examination.

Exam Shows Boy Suffered Broken Leg

Jimmy Farry, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farry, 801 Ann St., Stroudsburg, who was injured when struck by a car on S. Seventh St. a week ago today, suffered compound fracture of his right leg below the knee, it was revealed last night.

The little fellow had been making satisfactory progress recuperating from his injuries to face and head, members of the family said, but kept limping. He was taken to the Monroe County General Hospital yesterday when X-ray examination revealed the fracture. The injured member was placed in a cast and he was taken home. Jimmy was hurt when he ran in front of the automobile operated by Clarence Williams, of Stroudsburg RD 1, who picked him up and took him to the hospital where he was examined and treated and discharged.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Less agreeable than you supposed? Don't be indolent or caught napping. Things can happen fast, be on sensible guard and you will do all right. Be patient with those depending upon you.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Excellent opportunity to do the extra things you have been trying to put in working order. Be calm; avoid impulsive acts, they generally are unwise, cause most of your trouble.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Opportunity knocking at your door. Open promptly, get started early! Forget the non-essentials, even personal affairs awhile. It's one of your big moments.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Our heartaches, troubles come from unthoughtful words, indifference at wrong time. Ease up, folks. Get truly into the spirit of friendship, cooperation and things will click.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Anxious configurations for weather en-deavors. Handle carefully issues with uncertain consequences. Brace up, do a good job. Heart interests pale.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Things should look and act better for you solid, conservative ones. Try some new ideas, get out of possible ruts. Thank the Lord for what you have; many others have none.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Nature having endowed you with such gifts as balance, foresight and keen perception, you should use them if you would "better your stars." Day urges special energy at work.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—Influences say you will do well to be concise, accurate and meticulous about following wise prearranged plans. Good results if you handle affairs smartly. Keep smiling.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—Familiar matters, activities of urgency should move along efficiently. Work hard for expected returns. Be untaking in your obligations, vital interests, coordination.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Unfriendly if you are careless, get hastily without proper preparation. You are equipped by nature to handle tough problems; use your gifts rightly.

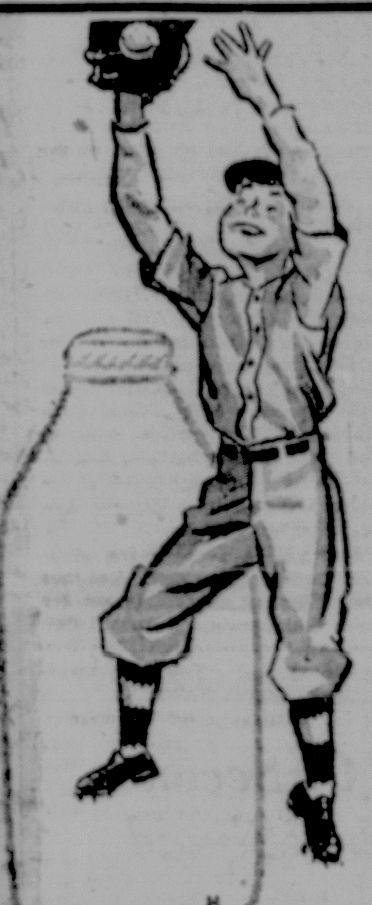

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—A day that takes astute action to get top results. Explore new ventures. More forward with others in your field, reach farther when you can. Don't be content with so-so progress.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Attractive advantages for the alert, so you must give things an extra try, an extra push, too. Attempt the unusual if it could be helpful. New fields opening everyday, look about.

YOU BORN TODAY were never intended for a weakling or one who would follow the "bell cow." Mars dominant in the heavens when you were born, indicates nerve, courage, initiative, you are interesting in business, and society. Could make a name in politics, on stage, and public position. Avoid over-aggressiveness, criticism. Control your likes, dislikes. Birthdate of: Abraham Charles Swinburn, famed Eng. poet, critic.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Bill Nixon, former executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and at present assistant to the president of Muhlenberg College, is scheduled to meet with Ray Steele and Martin "Ducky" Marx today, at the Grace Lutheran Church, in connection with attending Muhlenberg, following their graduation from East Stroudsburg High school in June. Steele is a scholastic basketball and baseball star, while Marx is outstanding in both baseball and football. Today's talk is only one of several each of the boys have had concerning college.

The conference between the Eastburg stars and Nixon is listed for 2:15 p.m. Junior Gold Medal Tournament trophies are now on display in the window of E. A. Bell Insurance Co., on Main St. The tournament held its semi-final round at the Monroe County YMCA last night. Norman Lewis, top point producer for Tobyhanna Township High school's basketball team for the past two years and the leading scorer in the Monroe County League in 1951, is reportedly headed for Siena College next September.

Don "Buddy" Judge, both a baseball and basketball star at TTHS, is headed for a year of prep school before college, following his graduation in June. Judge is currently on the sidelines with a damaged knee. Don "Sonny" Wischer, a member of the Pocono Pines Shopping Center five, suffered a painful ankle sprain at the YMCA court on Wednesday, but was back in action on the same floor last night and was going at full speed while in the game. This is the same youngster who almost tore the TTHS stage loose from its moorings during the regular Monroe County League, but took only two days to be ready for full time duty once again.

The selection of Bill Schmidt on the second All-State Teachers College basketball team came as a surprise to nobody. The likeable high scoring forward was certainly one of the best cage artists in the state during the past two campaigns, even though he was held out of action during the last two contests of the past season, as the Warriors went down to defeats number 13 and 14. Bill was spending the Easter vacation in Philadelphia when the good news broke.

Jim Barnhardt, who got his professional baseball start with Bangor, when the North Atlantic League was still in operation in 1950, has been returned to Portsmouth, of the class "B" Piedmont League by the Washington Senators. The former East Stroudsburg State Teachers College student, a right handed hurler, was purchased by the Senators on a conditional basis. According to reports Barnhardt had a chance to go to a league of higher classification, but chose to return to Portsmouth.

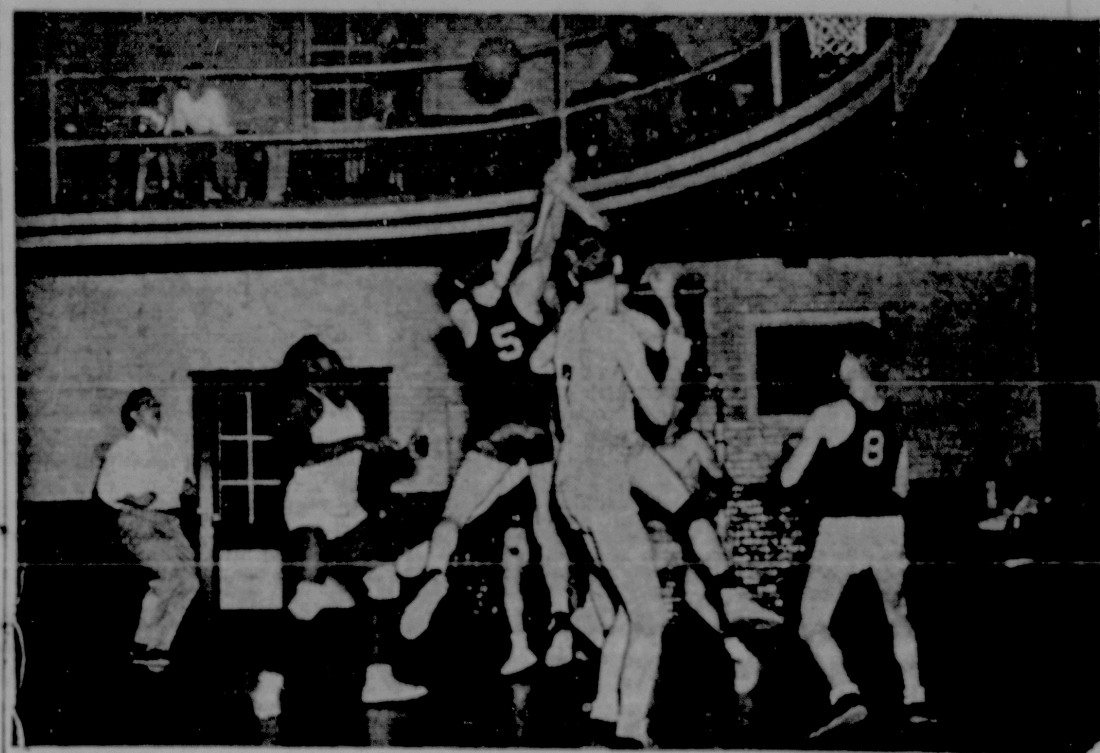

Mountain Manor Golf club opens today and Ray Lambert will be back for his second straight year as professional. Ray is also known as one of the top basketball officials in Monroe County during the winter months. Speaking of basketball officials brings to mind the fact that Bill Crooks turned in a fine job in the same capacity at the Monroe County YMCA last night. Bill would be taking a wise step if he would take the PIAA basketball officials exam next winter. He really has the makings.

The Pocono Lake fire company will erect wooden bleachers behind the backstop on the Pocono Pines baseball field this spring, with the aid of the manual arts department of Tobyhanna Township High school. Gene Martin, head football coach at dean of men at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is on the mend at the present time following an attack of the gripe recently. Bob Stapp, one of Newfoundland's top sportsmen, is spending the weekend in New York—no doubt attempting to get some inside dope on the Yankees and their chances for the coming campaign.

Thursday has been set as the day on which the Gold Medal committee will select the various award winners in the two tournaments now in session. All action comes to an end on Wednesday, at which time the final rounds will be held at Stroudsburg High school. Clarence "Buck" Etchison, recently named manager of the Harrisburg club in the Inter-State League, received a royal welcome to the state capital with a picture spread in the last Sunday's Patriot-News. Etchison piloted Mahanoy City of the North Atlantic League, in 1946 and 1947.

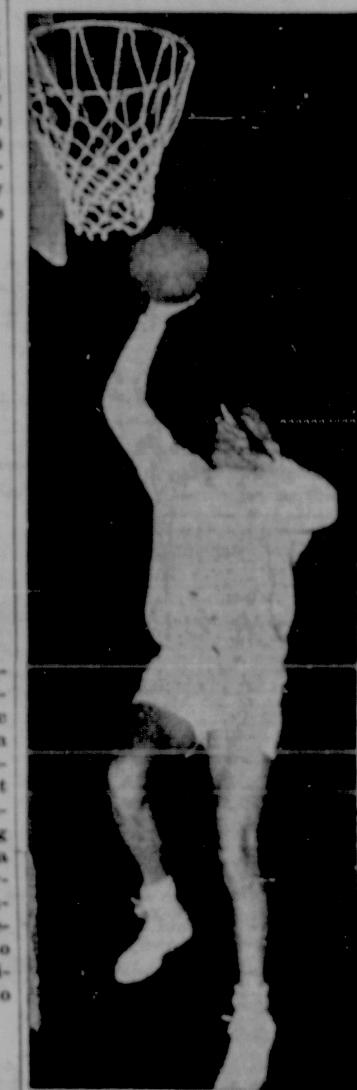

"Tex" Hoyle, brother of Alex Hoyle, the latter a star hurler with Carbondale, also of the NAL, a couple of years back, has been named the best looking rookie pitcher on the staff of the Philadelphia A's, by no less an authority than Manager Jimmy Dyke himself. WYFO opens another year of baseball today, when the local station airs its first exhibition game of the campaign, as the New York Yankees tangle with the Atlanta Crackers.

West Chester Ace Leading Point Producer On All-Pennsylvania State Teachers Quintet

Bill Schmidt

ESSTC Star Ends Career

Bill Schmidt completed a short but outstanding basketball career at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College by being named to the second All-Pennsylvania State Teachers College team yesterday, as selected by the Associated Press. The New Jersey native drew a total of 16 votes, which was enough to land a second team berth.

Schmidt entered ESSTC in time for the 1949-1950 basketball season, as a sophomore, but was declared ineligible, due to the fact that he was a transfer from Pratt Institute, in Brooklyn. However, Bill did pace the ESSTC junior varsity to a good campaign.

Bill joined the varsity in the 1950-1951 campaign, under the guidance of Coach Ray Welsh at that time. Schmidt scored 228 points during this season, including a brilliant display of 32 points against a strong West Chester quintet, on the Normal Hill court.

Schmidt, a graduate of Dumont, N. J. High, is approximately six feet, on inch tall and weighs in the neighborhood of 170 pounds and is one of the most popular students on the ESSTC campus. In addition to playing basketball, Bill finds enough time to make the dean's list and serve as president of his class, a position he has filled for the past three years.

If Schmidt isn't drafted following graduation next month, he hopes to further his education at the University of Richmond.

Harrisburg (AP) — Defensive ability as well as scoring power was recognized yesterday on the 1952 All-Pennsylvania State Teachers College basketball team selected by 14 conference coaches.

While the starting five would have scored an average 100 points per game if the players had been competing as a unit, the conference coaches also emphasized all-around floor play in their first annual selections.

Millersville, which won the most conference games although losing the title on the league's complicated point system, placed two men on the first team. They were captain Karl Kramer, a six feet playmaker, and Ken Klein, a five feet 11 spectacular set shooter.

Rounding out the first five are Tom McClelland, Shippensburg; Don Stemmerich, Clarion; and Art Nazigan, West Chester. All but Kramer and Nazigan are juniors with another year to play.

Scoring Punch
Nazigan and Stemmerich add the most scoring punch with 435 and 426 points, respectively. Nazigan, however, was on a team that won only nine of 19 games while Stemmerich's Clarion quintet went undefeated throughout its regular season before losing in the NAIB tourney at Kansas City.

Nazigan's best night was against Moravian College when he dumped in 51 points as his teammates were winning, 90-67. Stemmerich had 33 points in two separate games this season.

Klein was Millersville's clutch player with his deadly set shots and hard-driving layups. He scored 27 points against champion Lock Haven as Millersville won the eastern NAIB elimination. His season total was 289.

Kramer's chief asset was his quickness in grabbing the opponents' passes and breaking up dribbling. The smallest man on the team at five feet 11, Kramer sacrificed the opportunity to score more points by switching to a defensive role this year. His season's total was 266.

McClelland, an ace pivot and hook shot at six feet one, set a new Shippensburg record this season when he scored 378 points in 24 games. The 24-year-old sharpshooter captained the team in his third year on the varsity.

Schmidt Selected On Second All-Tutor Basketball Squad

Player	College	Votes	Height	Year	Hometown
Ken Klein	Millersville	45	5 Feet 11	Jr.	Millersville
Tom McClelland	Shippensburg	38	6 Feet 1	Jr.	Shippensburg
Don Stemmerich	Clarion	30	6 Feet 5	Jr.	Wilkes-Barre
Karl Kramer	Millersville	29	6 Feet	Sr.	Norwood
Art Nazigan	West Chester	28	6 Feet 4	Sr.	West Chester

Second Team—(Votes): Black, Slippery Rock (25); Wilberg, Clarion (20); McDermott, Lock Haven (11); Daily, Millersville (16); Schmidt, East Stroudsburg (16).

Third Team—(Votes): Belczyk, Millersville (15); Williams, Bloomsburg (13); O'Hara, Clarion (11); Alexander, Millersville (11); Gurski, Indiana (11).

Honorable Mention—(15)—Alphabetically: Anderson, West Chester; Beck, Slippery Rock; Bleasing, West Chester; Bess, West Chester; Brennan, Edinboro; Buck, Clarion; Byham, Bloomsburg; Close, Kutztown; Erickson, Bloomsburg; Evans, Millersville; George, Indiana; Hartman, Kutztown; Hays, Indiana; Janock, Edinboro.

Kelly, Clarion; Kennedy, California; Mason, Mansfield; Miller, Lock Haven; Murphy, Lock Haven; Parks, Edinboro; Silvinski, Kutztown; Steiner, Millersville; Swager, Indiana; Zeme, California; Zinkham, Slippery Rock.

Madison, Wis. (AP) — Slugging Archie Slaten of Miami, Fla. deposed two-time lightweight champion Everett Conley of Washington State last night in the semi-finals of the fifteenth annual NCAA Boxing Tournament.

The Florida brawler threw punches by the dozen to win a 3-0 vote from the judges. Donley, a southpaw who had ruled his class for two years, had won a dozen straight bouts before last night.

Slaten succeeded in upsetting a champion just after his teammate, Mickey Demos, failed against featherweight King Neil Ofluth of Minnesota. The Gopher utilized his reach to best advantage in taking the unanimous verdict before some 10,000 fans in the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse.

Ofluth will face Don Camp of San Jose, (Calif.) State, winner last night over Jimmie Evans of Michigan State, in today's finals. Slaten's foe for the title will be Bob Jackson of Louisiana State, who took a split decision from Arlin Gallagher of Gonzaga.

Grand National Runs Today
Aintree, England (AP) — Freebooter, the 1950 winner, last night was boosted into the favorite's role at 100 to 8 among the 46 probable starters for today's 106th running of the Grand National Steeplechase.

A crowd of 250,000 was expected to jam the course for the world's outstanding jumping race. A sweepstakes is based on the results of the gruelling, four-mile, 856-yard run over 30 difficult jumps. Only three of the 36 starters last year finished. That's the kind of a race it is.

Cramer's Five, Pocono Lake Reach Final

Cramer's Cut Rate and Pocono Pines Shopping Center fought their way to the final round of the Junior Gold Medal Tournament at the Monroe County YMCA last night, with victories over Biggs' Restaurant and Penn-Dell respectively. Cramer's club ran away with Biggs' five, 80-42, while Pocono Pines came through in the fading minutes of the game to edge Penn-Dell, 59-53, in the nightcap.

Action in the opening half of the doubleheader favored Cramer's five from start to finish, as the Biggs' contingent was able to hold its own only in the third period, when each team scored 20 points.

Cramer's club led 21-8 at the end of the first period and 40-15 at the halfway mark. Biggs' five lost all chances of victory when Cramer's club held a 20-12 advantage during the final quarter.

Biggs' crew made seven of 19 shots from the foul line, while Cramer's five made 18 of 28 tosses from the same distance.

Second Contest
Jim Fritz and Bill Bailey paced Penn-Dell into a 48-38 lead with nine minutes remaining in the nightcap, but when both the Penn-Dell aces fouled out, Pocono Pines, featuring almost the entire Tobyhanna Township High school team, came roaring from behind in the late stages to win with a wide 25-7 advantage in the last quarter scoring.

Penn-Dell led at the end of the first quarter, 13-11, and 24-17 at the halfway mark. Penn-Dell also held a 46-34 edge going into the final round, only to falter in the late stages.

Pocono Pines made 19 of 34 charity shots, while Penn-Dell chattered the bell on only seven of 25 tosses from the free-throw line.

Fritz and Bailey were the big guns in a losing cause, with 23 and 11 counters, while Norman Lewis and Bob Miller, with 23 and 15 markers respectively paced the winning attack.

Giants Snap Losing Habit
Oklahoma City (AP) — The New York Giants rebounded from a seven-game losing streak to the Indians by trouncing Cleveland, 5-3, in an exhibition thriller yesterday.

The Giants, behind 2-0 at the end of three innings, tied it up in the fourth and pushed across a pair of runs in the fifth on two singles, a walk and an Indian bobble to take the lead to stay.

Brownies Nip Pale Hose, 5-4
San Antonio, Texas (AP) — The Chicago White Sox yesterday concluded spring exhibition engagements with the St. Louis Browns, losing 5-4 on a wind swept field.

Tommy Byrne, ex-New York Yankee, contributed an eight hit pitching job and a key double to the Sox defeat that ended the series and two games each.

Rookie's Eye Removed
St. Louis, (AP) — The injured left eye of baseball pitcher Bob Slaybaugh was removed in an emergency operation at Barnes Hospital yesterday.

Dr. S. Albert Hanser, who performed the operation, said a rupture at the rear of the eyeball forced the removal.

Araujo Stops Riley Early In Ninth Round At St. Nicks

New York (AP) — George Araujo, a 20-year-old lightweight with the icy poise of a veteran, made a sensational New York and television debut last night by stopping Charley Riley of St. Louis in 1:06 of the ninth round of a ten-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. It was the twenty-ninth straight victory for the Providence, R. I., contender, a one to six favorite. Araujo outweighed his rival, 134 to 128.

The once beaten Rhode Island Negro, who hasn't lost a bout in two and one-half years, treated the 28-year-old veteran as if he was a novice. He swept every round with a varied assortment of punches and rarely gave the five foot, two and one-half inch westerner a moment's letup.

Araujo beat Riley in Providence in a ten-rounder last December. Last night he made it more decisive.

The fleetfooted, fast punching youngster never floored his chunky rival but he might have if Referee Pete Scalzo had not stopped the affair in the ninth. George had just rattled a volley of lefts and rights against Riley's bleeding nose when the official intervened. Dr. Vincent Nardello had inspected Riley in his corner after the eighth round.

The New Englander drew blood from Riley's nose in the second round and it dropped from then on. It was a cool, efficient performance for Araujo who planted his punches cleanly and solidly. He buckled Riley's knees in the third and he stunned him in the eighth and ninth rounds.

Riley had just one good moment. At the start of the sixth he drove Araujo into a corner and banged him with two hard rights and a left to the head. But the classy Araujo rallied with a blistering series of left hooks to more than make up that deficit.

It was the forty-second victory in 43 starts for Araujo who is seeking a title fight with lightweight champion Jimmy Carter. It was the fifth time Riley has been stopped in 78 bouts of which he now has lost 22.

A crowd of 1969 paid $3.976 for the nationally telecast and broadcast bout.

Cox Eliminated From National AAU Wrestling Championships

Ithaca, N. Y. (AP) — Johnny Johnson, Clearfield, Pa., lost his first match last night after reaching the fourth round of the National AAU Wrestling Championships.

Johnson was defeated by Sidney Nodland, Long Island grappler, in the 114.5 pound class.

Glenn Flegel, another 114.5 pound Clearfield entry, was eliminated although he won his fourth round match over Gilbert Haney, Baltimore YMCA.

Third Round
Gerald Maurey, a Clearfield grappler representing the New York A. C., also won his third round match, pinning Hershel Fulcher, Emora (Ga.) University, in 13:41, in the 136.5 pound class.

Sam Marano, wrestling out of Clearfield High school, was eliminated under the Olympic rules used in the tourney, when he was defeated by George Feuerbach, New York A. C., also in the 136.5 pound class.

Maurey's brother, James—also representing the New York A. C.—was eliminated as he was defeated by Milvin Northrup, San Francisco Olympic club, in the 147.5 pound division.

Kenneth Cox, Bethlehem, Pa., heavyweight, was pinned by Richard Beyer, Syracuse University, in a third round bout in 3:30. Earlier Cox was pinned by L. Richard Clark, Rome (N. Y.) Air Base. The two losses eliminated Cox from the tourney.

Cox wrestled as a 175-pounder at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College last season.

Knockout Field
Pocono A. C., Monroe County's Blue Mountain League entry, will hold its first drill of the present season at Gordon Giffels field today, at 1 p.m. Any interested candidates are urged to take part in the opening practice, under the watchful eye of Manager John Schoonover. A practice is also listed tomorrow at 1 p.m.

Anamolink, a veteran member of the Pocono Mountains League, has scheduled a business meeting for tomorrow, at 8 p.m., at the home of Ted Sebring, on the road leading from Misertown to Anamolink. All team candidates are asked to be present for the business session.

Portland's entry in the Blue Mountain League has also planned a practice session tomorrow. It was announced last night by Manager LeRoy "Cheesy" Egbert. The drill will begin at 2:30 p.m., on the Portland field.

Dan Eppley, manager of the Bushkill entry in the Pocono Mountains League, also announced last night that his charges would take part in their initial practice tomorrow at 2 p.m., on the Bushkill field.

Three Matches Listed
Three matches are listed for the Industrial league today, at 1:30 p.m., at Harmon's Recreation. Schedule follows:

Montgomery, Ala. (AP) — Chris Van Cuyk and Clem Labine shut the Boston Braves on nine hits yesterday as the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 7-0 exhibition game before 5,785 fans.

The Dodgers combined four hits with a walk and an error off Boston starter Dave Cole for five runs in the second inning.
Roy Campanella homered off Cole in the third and Dick Williams hit a four-bagger in the eighth for the other Brooklyn runs.

Clubs To Campaign In Separate Loops

Tobyhanna — A second baseball team has been organized in this area, it was announced last night in a joint statement by Frank "Candy" Dailey and Charley "Chubby" Deubler, who will lead the new organization into the Pocono Mountain Baseball Association, a four county diamond circuit.

The admission to the circuit which includes representation from Wayne, Pike and Lackawanna counties, in addition to Monroe, became official at a recent meeting of the league, in Moscow.

Deubler, speaking for the partnership, announced that the team would be made up for the most part of youngsters of the high school age, with a sprinkling of veterans to add balance to the club.

However, both men were quick to point out that they in no way want to interfere with the Pocono Mountains League, which operates as a ten-team unit almost entirely within the boundaries of Monroe County. The Tobyhanna team in his circuit recently combined with Pocono Lake, to form one of the ten teams in the league.

Deubler and Dailey are hopeful that a suitable working agreement between the two clubs can be worked out as far as the use of the Coolbaugh High diamond is concerned, especially since the Tobyhanna entry in the Pocono Mountains League will alternate its home dates between the Coolbaugh field and one in Pocono Pines.

The newly formed club, to be known as the Tobyhanna Tourists, is scheduled to hold its initial practice session tomorrow, on the Coolbaugh High diamond, at 2 p.m. Newfoundland, and old Wayne County League club, combined with Sterling to land the eighth berth in the loop and fill out the list for the coming campaign. Henry "Hank" Botjer, well known in the Wayne County area, and Mike Stevens will manage the Newfoundland - Sterling contingent. This team will play on the Newfoundland fair grounds.

Other clubs in the circuit are Goldsboro, managed by Harry Sebring; Daleville Boosters, 1951 playoff winners, to be piloted by Frank Kordziel; Mount Cobb Mountaineers, to be led by Stan Prokop; Maple Lake, Jake Bloomer, manager; South Canaan, to be piloted by Bernie Robinson, and St. Catherine's of Moscow, "Zig" Stepinski, manager.

The Lackawanna County "Umpires' Association has placed a bid for the officiating task, but this bit of business will be settled at a later date.

Bill Prokop, veteran baseball figure, will serve as president of the circuit, which opens the season on Sunday, May 4, and closes on Sunday, August 10. A Shaughnessy playoff system will follow the regular season action.

Although the league was idly last year, it will be entering its sixteenth active campaign this season.

Konno Captures Second AAU Title
New Haven, (AP) — Ford Konno, the Hawaiian "Beh" from Ohio State, won his second national AAU championship last night when he captured the 220-yard free style swim from Wayne Moore in the sparkling time of 2:06.4.

Fades
Ronald Gora, University of Michigan's athlete competing untended, led up to nearly the 200-yard mark and then finished third.

Penn Stroud

PENN POINTS

It's hard to think of a hotel as having a hobby but one of mine at the Penn Stroud is collecting rifles, Kentucky rifles, specifically. Some years back when we started redecorating the Stroud Tavern, it was decided that the main motif for the room should be firearms of various kinds, as well as Currier and Ives prints. Up to now, 15 of these rifles are on display in the Penn Stroud with an additional 30 or so still to be placed on the walls.

It's surprising to see how much discussion these rifles arouse among the customers. There might be more, too, if people knew something about their history. As far as I have been able to determine, the guns are called "Kentucky Rifles" not because they were manufactured in that state but because they were used by pioneers from the East heading across the Alleghenies for the undeveloped territory beyond. About 80% of the rifles were manufactured in Pennsylvania, many right in this area, and they were prized especially for their accuracy.

At any rate, I am happy to have these "conversation pieces" in the Stroud Tavern and if they add to the pleasure of your evening here, just remember that's what they're for.

More Than A Quarter Century
Last week two staff members of the Penn Stroud observed 26 years of continuous service at the hotel. Margaret Heberling, who is well known to Stroudsburgers as our chief clerk, rounded out

Another Controversy
One of my favorite trade publications in the hotel field has been carrying a lot of "letters to the editor" regarding the question of "Welsh Rarebit vs. Welsh Rabbit." There doesn't seem to be any satisfactory answer to that one, but it brings up the other running argument as to whether broiled lobster is better than the boiled variety.

That's largely a matter of personal preference and if you'd like to settle it to your own satisfaction, why not try lobster both ways at the Penn Stroud (not on the same day, of course). We will receive shipments of Maine Lobster by truck every Friday and Saturday morning starting next week, and our chef is always ready to prepare this deep-sea delicacy for you either char-broiled or boiled. As for me, I like them both ways!

Chest X-Rays Provided For 1,565 Persons

The Monroe County Tuberculosis Society Spring X-ray project this week provided chest X-rays for 1,565 persons in Monroe County including 649 food handlers in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg where new health laws require X-rays and other rigid physical examinations.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the society, said the mobile X-ray unit and expert technicians hired by the society covered every high school in Monroe County.

There all seniors, athletes, instructional and noninstructional personnel were X-rayed.

The TB Society has plans to bring back the mobile unit to X-ray food handlers in resort centers and other communities in the county where they work.

Meanwhile, the work of studying the X-ray films taken this week will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. As soon as they are interpreted those free from traces of tuberculosis will receive official card notices to that effect.

Where positive traces are found the family physician will be promptly notified.

Quota For Five Set For County

Jack Anderson, assistant director of Civil Defense in Monroe County, yesterday received a letter from the Eastern area of C.D. in Philadelphia, that Monroe County had been allocated a quota of five students to the C.D. Eastern Training School at Pennsylvania State College Center, Ogonitz.

The school starts Monday, April 14, and will be held every second week after that, Anderson said. The State pays the room and board for the students for the two-week course.

Anderson has sent memoranda to all township and borough C.D. directors asking them to send in names of persons who might qualify, from which the five to be sent will be chosen. This includes women. Only C. D. workers will be considered.

C. D. Unit To Fill Several Vacancies

Brookheadsville — The Chestnut-hill Township Civil Defense group will hold its final organizational meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium at Brookheadsville.

John C. Mills, township director, will attempt to fill all existing vacancies in the defense setup at that time.

Chestnut-hill's three divisions are now headed by Otto A. Mills, auxiliary police; William Kresge, air raid warden; and Floyd Altemose, in charge of auxiliary firemen.

Membership in the three divisions has not reached the full complement and the directors are now attempting to enlist the necessary personnel.

Mr. Mills yesterday urged any citizen of the township who is interested in the defense program to attend the meeting Monday night. Service is on a purely voluntary basis.

Henry Hoffman, zone chairman and a notary public, will administer the loyalty oath to all those engaged in C.D. work. Jack Anderson, assistant county director, will distribute identification cards.

A TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF A BUILDER ON REAL FOUNDATIONS

On this Twentieth Anniversary of the death of the first president of this corporation we recall his leadership in Monroe County by quoting the following editorial.

THE MORNING SUN

Wednesday, April 6, 1932

A LEADER PASSES

W. W. L'Hommedieu died last night. A businessman from the days of his boyhood, when he carried newspapers, until the time of his death, Mr. L'Hommedieu has been consistently advancing to greater heights of success in business and in power as a leader in this community.

A self made man, he leaves an impress on the community which is deep and lasting. His activities reached into almost every field of endeavor, every business and civic enterprise.

Monroe County will feel the loss tremendously. No community can lose an able leader without feeling that loss to the very depth of its being.

William Wallace L'Hommedieu

Born August 25, 1882. Died April 5, 1932

An optimist who would not permit his physical handicap to overcome his ardent zeal for "Right" and "Progress"

We Honor His Memory

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to tell you your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. The message the letters under the checked figures give you.
